

The Indian Society for Veterinary Immunology & Biotechnology (ISVIB) in collaboration with the Tamil Nadu Veterinary and Animal Sciences University (TANUVAS) is organizing the XXIX Annual Convention of ISVIB and National conference on "Challenges in Animal Health and Production amidst Climate Change: Innovative, Sustainable Solutions and their Translation" –VIBCON 2024" at Madras Veterinary College, Chennai from September 26-28th, 2024. The conference will host an array of expert lectures in addition to presentations from researchers in the field of veterinary immunology and biotechnology. ISVIB welcomes the scientific community to participate in this conference.

ABOUT TANUVAS

The Tamil Nadu Veterinary and Animal Sciences University (TANUVAS) was formed on 20.09.1989 as the first Veterinary University of the country, through the Tamil Nadu State Government Act 42 of 1989. The seed for the establishment and growth of TANUVAS was sown as early as 1876, when the Madras Veterinary College was started as an Agricultural School in Chennai to offer diploma and certificate course in the field of veterinary and animal sciences. The institute attained the status of a college on 01.10.1903, when it started functioning at Dobbin Hall, Chennai and admitted 20 students for a three-year diploma course. Now TANUVAS has grown into a premier veterinary institution in the country with 9 constituent colleges, 12 research stations, 15 research laboratories and 30 outreach centers. TANUVAS offers 4 undergraduate programmes, 29 post graduate programmes, 23 PhD programmes and 25 PG Diploma programmes.

ABOUT ISVIB

The Indian society of veterinary immunology and biotechnology, popularly called as "ISVIB" is a conglomerate organization of primarily veterinary scientists from microbiology, biotechnology, preventive medicine, parasitology, animal reproduction, fisheries and related disciplines with the objective of fostering the growth of veterinary immunology and biotechnology in the era of biological technology. The organization was started in the year 1990 ISVIB motivates the members to discuss, analyze, formulate suitable strategies for safeguarding animal health and thus to ensure improved animal production. To achieve this, annual national conventions and symposiums are organized to critically analyze and update knowledge and understand issues concerning with gene based technologies in animal production and health. ISVIB has a current membership of over 1000 scientists from India and abroad.
